EMBRACE THE SPIRIT OF RAMADAN IN DUBAI

The holy month of Ramadan is a sacred month of fasting, spiritual growth, gratitude, and acts of kindness. It is also an ideal time to experience the warm hospitality and rich heritage in the UAE as the country comes alive with traditions, vibrant Iftar feasts, and immersive cultural activities. During the day, the city emanates a peaceful atmosphere perfect for exploring traditional landmarks, and shopping at incredible seasonal sales. At sunset, Dubai comes alive with spectacular Iftar feasts, pop-up Ramadan tents, and bustling Ramadan Night Markets featuring local crafts, artisanal goods, and live performances. Suhoor gatherings before dawn provide another great opportunity to partake in cultural traditions during Ramadan. Themed light shows at Burj Khalifa, Dubai Festival City, and Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque offer a spectacular blend of tradition and modernity and are certainly not to be missed. However, it is important to observe social etiquette during the holy month. The general rule is that eating, drinking, smoking, or playing loud music in public is prohibited from sunrise to sunset. Major nightclubs may be closed, but most bars and pubs open in the evening, serving alcohol after 7 pm. Nonetheless, Ramadan offers a wealth of unique opportunities to discover the city in a tranquil and culturally enriching way, making it a truly special time to visit the UAE.

GET READY TO EXPLORE A MASTERPIECE OF ART, CULTURE, AND INNOVATION AT THE GUGGENHEIM ABU DHABI

The Guggenheim Abu Dhabi is set to redefine the global art scene as one of the most anticipated cultural projects of the decade. Located on Saadiyat Island, this architectural marvel designed by Frank Gehry combines cutting-edge innovation with a deep respect for heritage. The museum's sprawling 42,000-square-meter space will feature over 600 works from several generations of artists since 1960, with a focus on modern and contemporary art and a unique emphasis on narratives from the Middle East, North Africa, and South Asia. Visitors can look forward to ground-breaking installations, immersive digital art, and thought-provoking exhibitions that bridge cultures and tell stories of shared humanity. The Guggenheim Abu Dhabi is more than a museum; it's a destination that invites exploration, creativity, and dialogue, perfectly complementing its neighbors—the Louvre Abu Dhabi and the future Zayed National Museum. Slated to open in 2025, the museum promises to elevate Abu Dhabi's status as a global cultural hub.
